BOY SHOOTS FATHER.

Resents Spanking with a Paling. Claims It Was Accident.

Special to The Washington Herald. Durham, N. C., May 10 .- A sort of wave of lawlessness struck this city Saturday night when Tom Carter shot his father; Tom Lemon and Albert Burroughs stabbed Jim Jessup nearly to death; Bill Trice and Tom Carrington fied the chaingang; Edward Thompson was nabbed | for stealing a horse and buggy.

Young Carter and his father had an altercation, and the elder man beat his son with a paling. In the effort to defend himself a pistol was brought into play The boy declares that he had no intention of shooting his father, who received a bullet through the leg. The officers think the shooting was justifiable, and the recorder allowed a bond of $50.

On Long Walk to Pay Debt.

Special to The Washington Herald. Cumberland, Md., May 10.-Oscar E. Nulf, aged fifty-four, an expert crockery worker, in paying an election bet which required him to walk 945 miles, bet on Bryan. On the trip he cannot beg, sell, or purloin anything. He is due in Washington May 20, when he will report to Representative Kennedy. He wears a band uniform and has the word on his cap. He pushes a tricycle part. He is five days ahead of his schedile, and expects to be home July 4.

THE DEPARTED FREAKS.

The circus is coming, all scrumptious and gay, with weary old carriels and elephants gray, and hand-painted zebras and Bedouins and Greeks, but gone is the sideshow, and gone are the freaks. They've cut out the lady who weighed half a ton, the stunt of the lovely Circassian is done; the Ossified Man, poor unfortunate soul, now holds down a job as a telephone pole; no more in his cage does the Cannibal Chief make horrible sounds as he swallows raw beef; the lady whose whiskers made onlookers rave, has purchased a husband-and also a shave. The faces familiar forever are gone: the freaks are departed, in jail or in pawn; and now we're expected to curl up and laugh at the heart-broken clown or the two-headed WALT MASON.

TAYLOE'S PHARMACY 9th and P Sts. N. W.

This drug store is not only a practical necessity to the people in the neighborhood of Ninth and P streets, but it is also a convenient place in which to secure cooling drinks during the summer months. Mr. Tayloe, naturally, pays, first and always, complete attention to the filling of prescriptions, for which his pharmacy is justly celebrated-but that fountain is attractive on a warm day.

Tayloe's Pharmacy has been a Branch of the Want Ad Department of THE WASHINGTON HERALD for several months. It means a saving of time and expense to leave Want Ads at Tayloe's, and, as the rate for Want Ads in The Washington Herald is only I cent a word, it may mean a saving of money as well.

The ads that are left at branches are sent immediately by telephone to THE WASHINGTON HERALD, and any time almost until the branch closes is not too late to get an ad in The Herald.
